Executive Proclamation

Office Of The Governor

WHEREAS, The wedding of Eileen Dailey and David Haberling will take place Saturday, the 7th day of September, 1985; and,

WHEREAS, The regulations of the Bureau of Personnel have no prohibition to such a marital merger; the Department of State Development declares their home at 320 South Polk Street, a hospitable and most colorful tourism attraction within these borders; the Department of Commerce and Regulation seeks to model its own economic fortitude for financial stability after that of this Dailey-Haberling household; the State Historical Society commends them for their efforts to restore an antique sailing vessel, though it is advised that the couple purchase another oar for this vessel to protect against any stormy waters, they may, but likely will not, incur; the Department of Health commends these two unique individuals for their most sanitary and conservative sock policy; the Department of Labor praises the Dailey-Haberling work force for their fair, just and equitable division of the household labors; and the Department of Game, Fish and Parks and my own office express sincere appreciation to these two talented partners who have demonstrated their determination and devotion through the transformation of simple uninteresting structures to exquisitely decorated banquet halls, revealing the true character of this great state; and,

WHEREAS, I personally was at first undecided whether to issue an Executive Wedding Proclamation to both -- or a Proclamation of Valor to each; and,

WHEREAS, I wish Eileen and David the happiness and companionship they both seek with this union:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WILLIAM J. JANKLOW, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim Saturday, September 7, 1985, as in South Dakota. May you always remain "in like" with one another.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Twenty-second Day of August, in the Year of Our Lord. Nineteen Hundred and Eighty-Five

WILLIAM J. JANKLOW, GOVERNOR
